PREFACE

God wants His people well. From the beginning of the scriptures, this is made very clear. God wants you well. He said in 3 John 2, “Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.” God desires that you prosper spirit, soul and body. He desires through you to bless your world and bring to them salvation, healing and health.

No matter who you are and what stage of life you’re at, there is a message in this book for you. I send this book to you with prayer: that the words contained in this volume would open your eyes to the reality of who you are in Christ; may it loose the pangs of sickness and destroy the yoke of fear; may it liberate you into the prosperous and healthy life God has provided for His children. May it cause you to become a healer of the sick in His mighty Name.

If you are sick and bed-ridden, if medical science has given up on you, I pray that the words in this book will cause faith to be stirred up in your spirit and cause you to rise, take up your bed and walk!

This book will stir in and around you an atmosphere of miracle.

And he cried unto the Lord; and the Lord shewed him a tree, which when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet: there he made for them a statute and an ordinance, and there he proved them, And said, If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee (Exodus 15:25-26).

God gave the children of Israel a revelation of Himself at the waters of Meribah. Up till this time they had only known Him as El-Shaddai and Jehovah. But here, He reveals Himself to them as Jehovah Rapha - the Lord their healer. And how very comforting this particular revelation was at this time. They had come to a place without water, only bitter water. And they murmured against God. Yet God was merciful towards their unbelief, and told them, if only they would hearken to Him and observe His statutes, He would put none of the evil diseases, with which He had smitten the Egyptians upon them.

God makes here, a distinction between His people and the rest of the world. No disease was to come upon them because He was setting them apart. If they would only hearken to His voice and serve Him, no disease would have the ability to afflict their bodies. What is striking here is that God said this to a people of the old covenant. Their covenant relationship with Jehovah was enough to immunize them, and make them ‘disease-free,’ if only they would learn to serve Him.

By reason of the fall, man had come under the influence of disease and all that was evil. In fact the devil had a legal right to afflict them with all he wished to. But God told them if only they would give ear to Him, and walk right; He would not allow any of these diseases to afflict them.

God is more than enough. He said to Abraham, “I am El-Shaddai.” He is enough for all man would ever need.
God is to you all you will ever require Him to be. Man's need always brings to him a new revelation of God. In this case man was under the influence of sickness, but God revealed Himself and said, "I am the Lord that healeth thee." How wonderful!

Exodus 23:25, "And ye shall serve the Lord your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee."

If they would only serve Him, He would bless their bread and their water, and take sickness away from their midst. There would not be enough forces in hell to put the sickness on them. But did you notice, first they had to serve Him; they had to worship Him. Service and worship come ahead of healing. To prove to
